

I repeat myself

I'm running like forever in a dream
the same sequence is repeating itself over and over down the stream feeling like I'm frozen in time

The same old feelings
I repeat myself
the same old actions
you repeat yourself

Day in and day out, it sure fades to grey how can it be any different they say I know what I must do today run or hop, we all do the same

The same old feelings
I repeat myself
The same old actions
you repeat yourself

We meet and greet and we're having some fun
we drink and laugh and our time will be gone playing this ruthless game with a smile hide your plans in the darkness a while

The same old feelings
I repeat myself
The same old actions
you repeat yourself

The same old feelings
I repeat myself
The same old actions
you repeat yourself
