

Man in the Mirror

Pictures from my life
standing on parade
they all come to see me, I can't say a word

What has happened
to the life we once had
what has happened
to the man in the mirror
what has happened
to my body and my soul
now I see that I'm getting way too old

Silence surround us all, moments standing still wish that I could hide, wish I could fly away

What has happened
to the life we once had
what has happened
to the man in the mirror
what has happened
now I see that I'm
getting way too old

Glimpses of the light glimpses of the sun
glimpses of your love
I am on the run

Glimpses of my hope glimpses of your smile
where'd I put my dope resting for a while

I resign in darkness,
I don't recall
thought there was a purpose, now I'm not so sure

What has happened
to the life we once had
what has happened
to the man in the mirror
what has happened
getting way too old
