

Placeholder

You try to kill some time having fun for awhile You're feeling no guilt at all spending time for a dime

I am just a placeholder
to you
while you wait for something better to show up

I look into the void eating up my own mind I'm feeling numb and so weak waiting for you to shine

to you
to show up

Temporarily I am staying that's what I am to you temporarily I am waiting that's what life is to me

I'll leave you in your void waiting outside your door You never understood it what's up and what is down

to you
to show up

I am just a placeholder to you
to show up
